NOTES SUPPLIED BY THE THEATRES.

Acclaimed as a great triumph, Radio Pictures' "Cimarron," which is showing to-morrow at the Queen's Theatre, is truly an epoch in motion picture

It reveals Richard Dix in a new and startling role ... , that of Yancey Cravat, glamorous hero of the mighty Edna Ferber story. Given the greatest chance of his long and notable film career, Dix comes through with a characterization that will rank high among the best performances in the history of modern entertainment.

'In Irene Dunne, Radio Pictures has made the most sensational discovery of the talkle age. Not only is her beauty and stage presence unsurpassable, but her acting is nothing less than

Rosco Ates exhibits a Chaplinesque sense of humour that evokes tears through gales of laughter-and vice versa; while George E. Stone after this will be considered among the foremost character actors.

Yesterday's Solution

If five cubes and three cones balance three cubes and six cones, 12 cones will be required to balance eight cubes. This is solved by the process of elimination. Fire cubes, three cones equal three cubes, ex cones. Eliminate three cubes and three cones from each side and two cubes will balance three cones. Thus 12 cones will balance eight cubes.

The Auburn "Eights."

The opening of an agency in Bongkong for Auburn automobiles famous for individuality and distinction, not only in exterior disdgn but in engineering and manufacturing details as well, is an event of importance. One of the pioneers of the straight eight engine, the Auburn is a car with an excellent resutation, and the new models are characterised by smartness of appearance calculated to appeal to those who demand style as well as impressive performance. There are many leatures of note, mechanically and in construction of the bodies. Every provision has been made for the comfort of the occupants. doors being exceptionally wide. cushions delightfully deep and Urott, while controls are thought-I tully pinced for the easy operation of the car. Those who are interested, and we imagine that there will be many, will find a trial spin a most pleasurable experience. Magazine Gap Road.

Some months ago we advocated the opening of Magazine Gap Road to motor cars as a one-way route, downwards in the morning and up to the Gap in the evenings. It 1.3, of course, intended to widen the road at some time in the future, but in the meantime, there can be little objection to the scheme we suggest. The saving in time would be considerable, in fact, more than halved, and furthermore, much traffic would be diverted from the Wanchai route. We would suggest that in adopting the scheme, it should be necessary Hor every motorist desiring to use the route to secure a special permit, on which would be clearly stated that a speed limit of 12 miles per hour should be observed, failling the observance of which, the permission would be withdrawn. We imagine that especially in the mornings, such a facility would be greatly appreciated, and even nt the speed limit we propose, the journey to town would be very instruments used in the air. quickly accomplished.

SOUND ADVICE.

Periodic Inspections of Cars Urged.

[By Israel Klein.]

"The simplest and most effective remedy for motor vehicles in an ansafe operating condition is preventice maintenance through periodic inspections," writes E. T. Satchell, president of the Motor and Equipment Association, on behalf of the National Conference on Street and Highway Safety, at Washington.

The advice, repeated many times in this column, is worth constantrepetition while accidents are continuing at a high rate. According to this same conference, at least 15 per cent, of motor vehicle accidents resulted from defective apparatus.

Assuring yourself of good brakes and other important operating parts of the car will at least protect you from at least this share of the accident toll.

"Modern testing equipment now within easy access of every driver," Satchell continues, "has made regular inspections an inexpensive form of assurance against accidents. Carried through to their logical conclusion such inspections represent an nctual investment because they lower the final cost of ownership by maintaining the performance, comfort and appearance, as well as the safety, of a car at high

"The modern automobile is as safe as it is possible to make it when it leaves the manufacturer's plant. Brakes are more powerful, more efficient and easier to maintain. Hendlights are scientifically designed to illuminate the highway without blinding oncoming drivers. Steering mechanism is better, tyres are sturdier, horns are more dependable, windshield wipers and rear vision mirrors are standard equipment on practically all models.

"Car manufacturers have gone even further in their efforts to do their share in safety maintenance. Last year they voluntarily junked 360,000 vehicles which were deemed to have served their time and were considered no longer capable of being maintained in a safe operating condition."

The industry has developed and states while large numbers of municipalities are conducting In the absence of the natural safety inspection campaigns which

How Safety-Glass Was Discovered.

The month of June saw one of

Nowadays most motorists know that safety-glass is a sandwich of two sheets of glass with celluloid in between—hence the name Tri-Wheeling, a perfected developplex—welded together by some secret solution, but few know how the idea originated.

The inventor of safety-glass as Edouard Benedictus, a French chemist of Dutch origin, who had an "experimental laboratory in Paris. One day he dropped a bottle on the stone floor, and although it was starred inside like a crystal it did not break. He remembered that it had contained a projection of carriers chemicals which mixture of various chemicals which mixture of various chemicals which had evaporated and coated the interior with a transparent enamel. Nash Synchro-Shift-Safety transmission prevents gear clashing in shifting; so in free wheeling the shift lever action is silent and chassis lubrication is so arranged that for all arranged that effort is reduced to a minimum. In driving over rough roads, Nash free wheeling sends the car steadily forward without the jerking motion sometimes occasioned by uneven axle, and these projections have him programs of the fact threattle. Free wheeling allows power to flow in one direction only—from the motor to the rear wheels. When it is operating, the rear wheels cannot drive the motor as the foot is removed from the accelerator. They run entirely free until such time as the motor is speeded up to correspond with their revolutions and to drive them

Its action is both thrilling and satisfying in conjunction with the Nash sound-proofed body, chassis and transmission. It gives the sensation of silent, smooth flight and is particularly pleasant on leisurely drives. At the same time the Nash system provides the driver with quick control over the car on slippery roads or grades by its easy shift back to the conventional drive.

The Synchro-Shift-Safety free wheeling consists of an over wheeling or one-way clutch mechanism, which transmits power while being rotated in one direction, but rolls free when its direction is reversed. It is of the advanced, roller type. Ruggedly built; with a maximum number of the penrings, it is a notable unit structurally. In it all wearing parts are made of the highest grade, electric furnace alloy steel. Exhaustive tests have proved that the drive's rugged strength is more than equal to the greatest strains that can be placed upon it times. The Government's economies, amounting to 70 milions, were severe but not intolerable. He defended the proposed cuts in unemployment benefit and the salaries of teachers.

The Income Tax.

Regarding the income tax changes, he stated that out of four million or more persons whose income would be brought under roview, only one and hall million would pay any tax and the tax would be small. The contribution he was asking from people with incomes from two to three hundred yearly was not large and he believed they would not complain at making it to the national need in the emergency.

The Chancellor described the talk of a "Banker's samp" as unadulterated nonzense. If the facts were known the country would be eternally grateful to the Bank of England for the efforts it made to fulfil its duty as the custodian of Britian credit.

"Industrial depression is showing no lift," concluded Mr. Snowden," but the country has come through hard times triumphantly in the past to an era of greater prosperity. It will happen again if the people show the same grit as their predecessors and the same faith in the country's future."

Financial opinion has reacted favourably to the budget and British funds were to-day marked

Typical remarks are those of the New York Times which describes the budget as a "striking testimony to the determination of the British people to keep at al coats their public finances in order" and of the Cape Times. which regards it as a "brave and honest effort to meet a serious situation."

Economy Bill Debate.

Today, in the Commons, the Premier moving the second reading of Economy Bill, explained how the Government's scheme balanced, saying seventy million pounds in a full year were to be found by economics and eighty million pounds by taxation, of which fifty-seven millions, considerably more than half, were to be found by direct taxation.

Twenty million pounds were covered by the provision made as regards the sinking fund and in the background was the conversion scheme, not estimated as yet, but which would be launched at the earliest possible opportunity.

HOTEL FIRE THRILL AT LE TOUQUET.

BRITISH VISITORS RUSH FOR SAFETY.

Le Touquet, Aug. L. There were remarkable scenes when fire broke out in the Royal Picardy, the largest hotel in Le Touquet, at 3.30 this morning.

The outbreak occurred in the attic in the servants' quarters. When the alarm was raised by taxi drivers in front of the casino, who saw flames coming from the roof of the hotel, many of the 100 guests, mostly British and American, left their rooms in night attire and mingled with the crowds in the gardens.

One of the hotel employees, named Parmini, was slightly injured, and a fireman was struck by a tile from the roof.

Casino, Crowds.

The news of the fire spread quicky through the town and a crowd of several hundreds, among whom were men and women in evening dress who had left the casino, gathered outside the hotel.

The firemen extinguished the flames in two hours. The damage is confined to the attics and to two floors which were flooded. The hotel, which was built last Neither season's nor business conditions alter the stability of "Powell's" Tailoring. One buys there knowing that the price paid is the intrinsic value of the garment. Since we never hold so called sales. our prices are never inflated to provide a margin for later reductions. There is extremely gratifying evidence that the sanity and honesty of these principles have earned the approval of our customers.

Just how far should a player stand from the ball?

It is impossible to specify in feet and inches just how far away from the ball a player should stand in the address. Stunces will vary just as personalities differ. Yet! there is one way by which those using the square stance may get a rough idea of the distance to be put between feet and the ball.

With the square stance, hold the club in the left hand and permit the clubhead to settle in its natural position behind the ball Lower the club to the height, of the left knee. This simple method has often cared good players of the common fault of standing too far away from the ball ---ART KRENZ.
